WELCOME TO GLASTONBURY

Celebrating 5 years of The Glastonbury Mural Trail, a collection of vibrant murals painted by various local, national, and international artists. Variety, indeed, is the spice of life. These diverse artworks reflect and celebrate the town's unique culture, fostering a sense of pride among local people and inspiring residents and visitors alike. The project has united artists, businesses, sponsors and volunteers, working together to create a more colourful future for the town.

Since its launch in 2019, it has taken on a life of its own and is continually evolving. An idea which was conceived to keep Glastonbury colourful, it now features artworks by over 45 different artists, with recent additions bringing the total number of murals to over 70. It is free and open to all, residents and visitors, of any age, all year round. The Mural Trail champions accessible art and the transformative power of creativity. It celebrates Glastonbury's creative nature, adding another layer of interest to this culturally vibrant town.

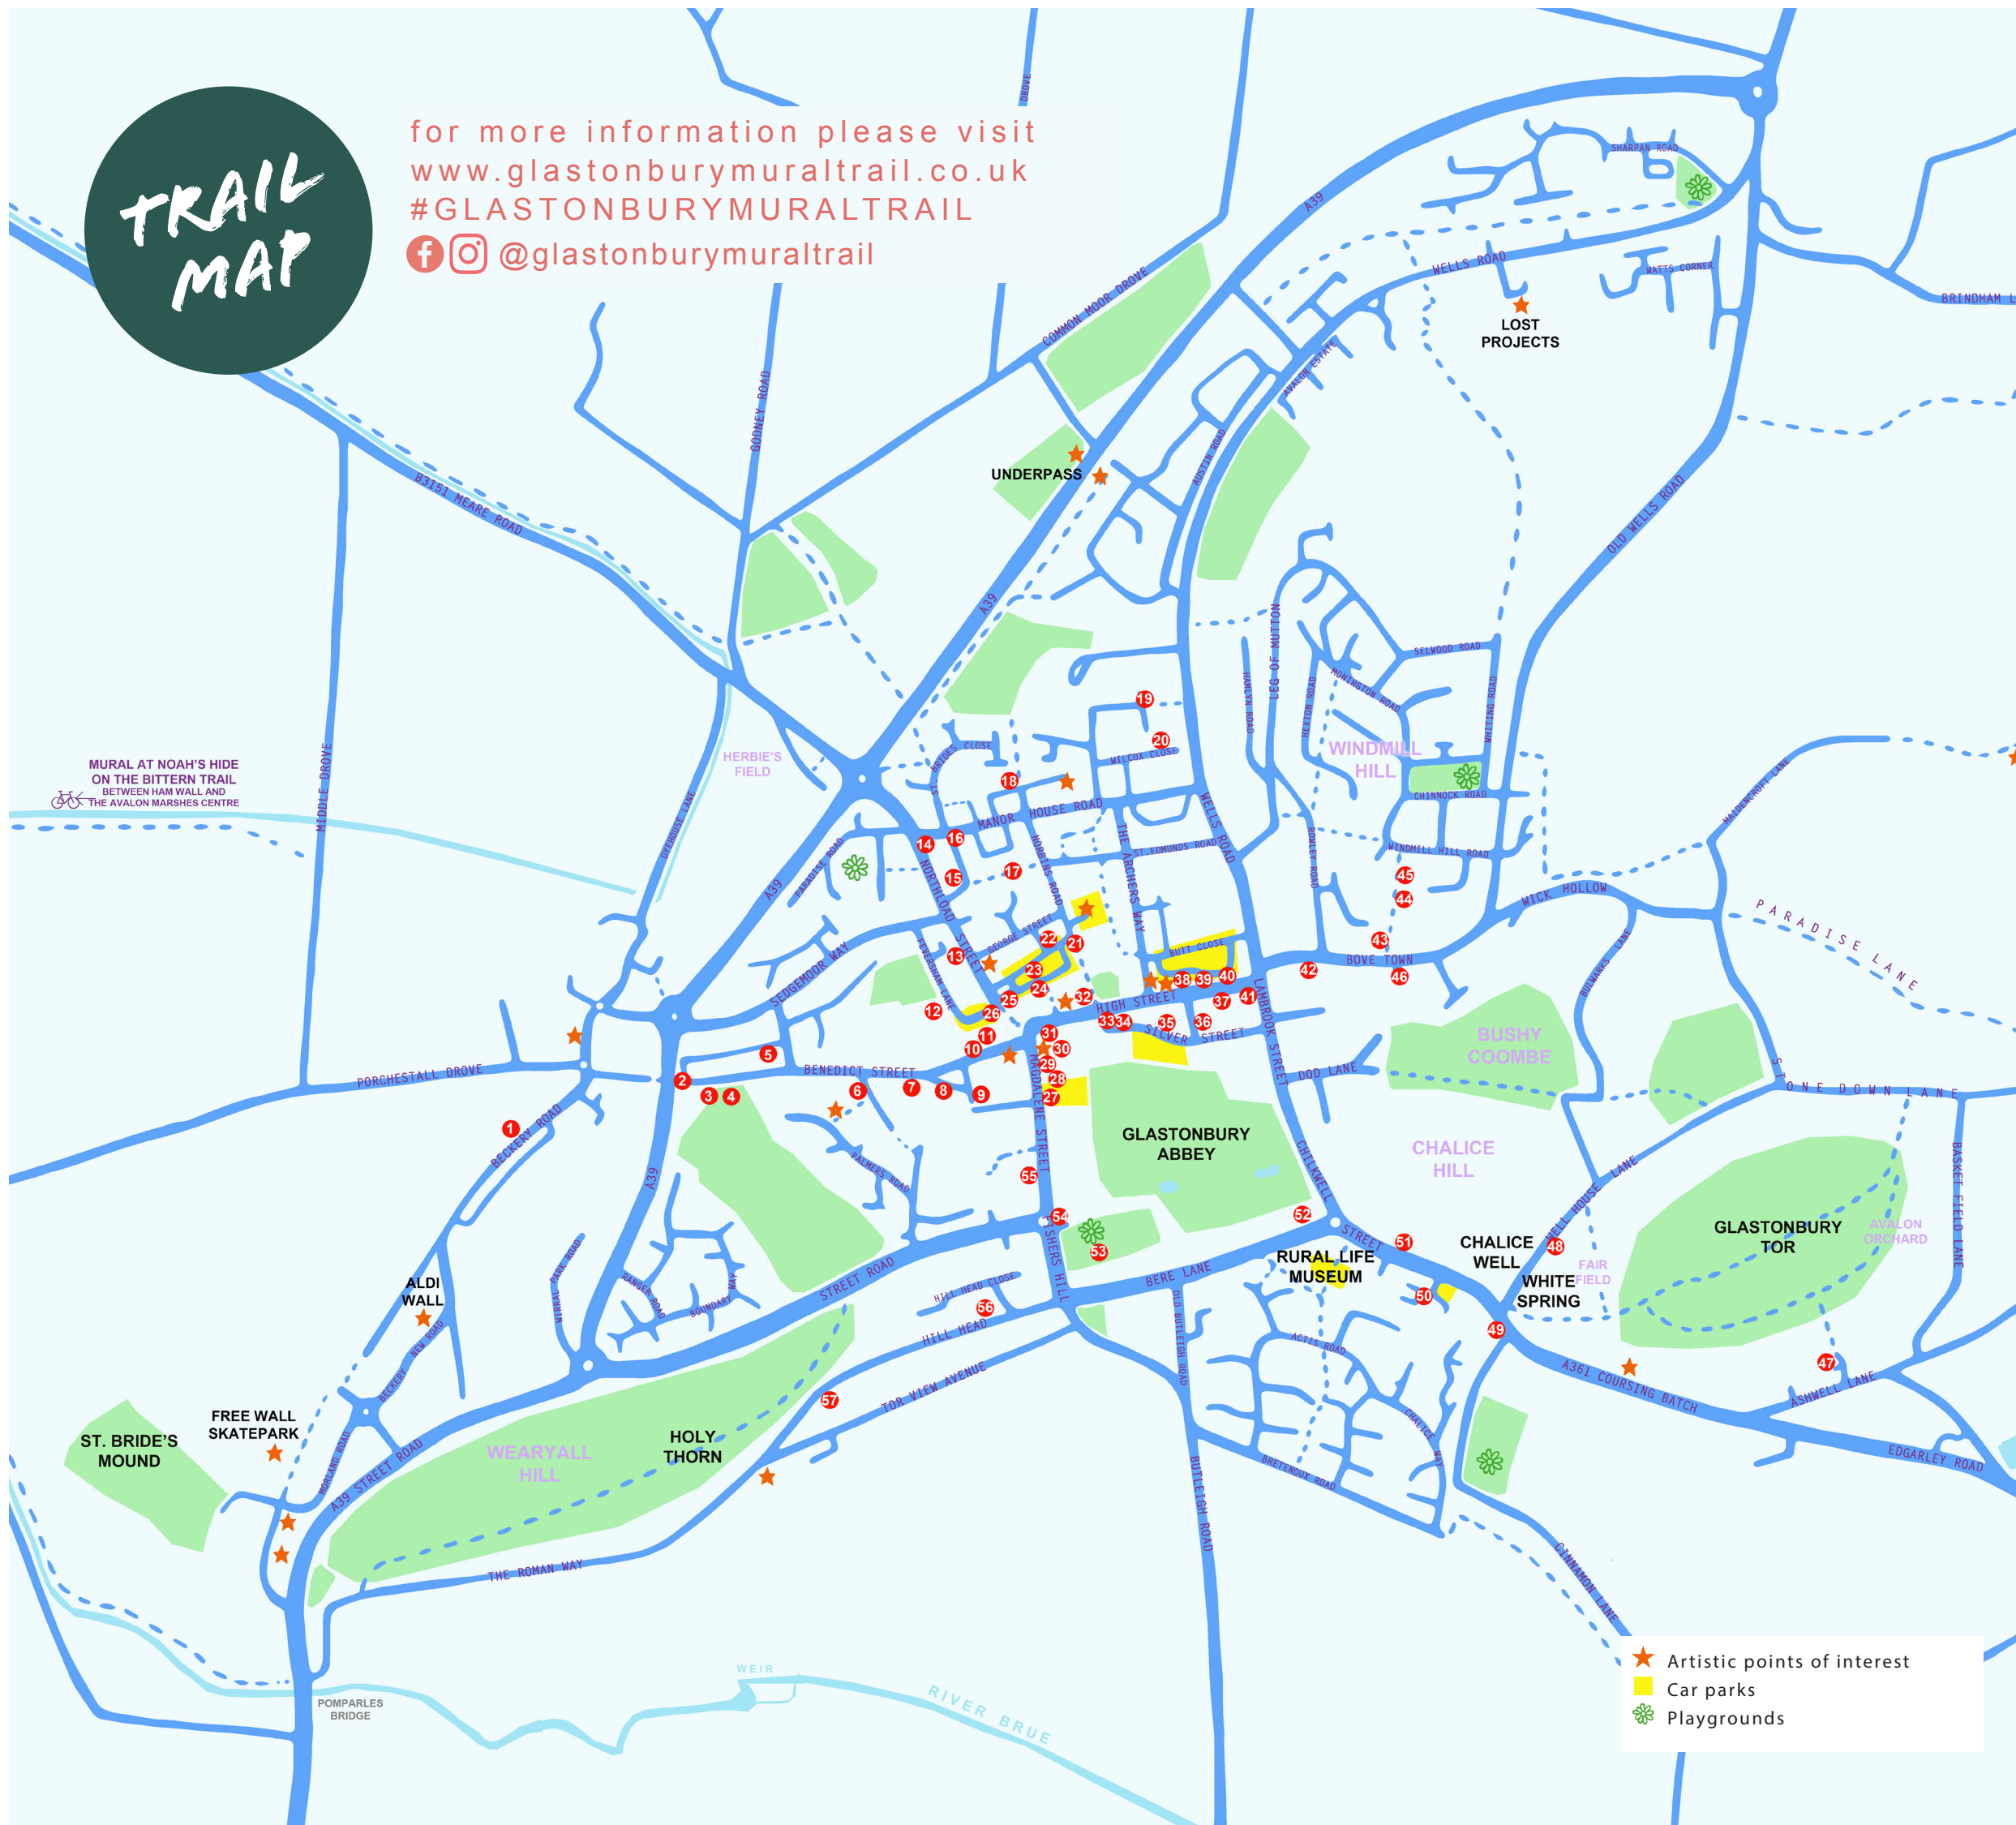

The trail is not just an art exhibit; it's a journey through the streets of Glastonbury, inviting both locals and visitors to explore hidden corners of the town. Whether you're a long-time resident or a first-time visitor, the Glastonbury Mural Trail promises to inspire, surprise, and delight, with a little something for everyone.

Sincere gratitude to Kim von Coels of The Krumble Empire for making the Mural Trail a reality, and the Glastonbury Town Council and our many sponsors and volunteers for their continued support.

This project is ongoing, so if you are interested in getting involved, either as a wall owner, sponsor or artist, please contact: hello@glastonburymuraltrail.co.uk
